

GAVEL CLUB

The Gavel Club provides its members with valuable experience through participation in many speaking situations, such as extemporaneous and prepared speeches or criticism. Officers of the club are Phil Scheide, Jerry Hanson, President Tom Mueller, Roger Neugebauer, Mark Johnson, and Mike Parta. The first semester president was Mark Strand.

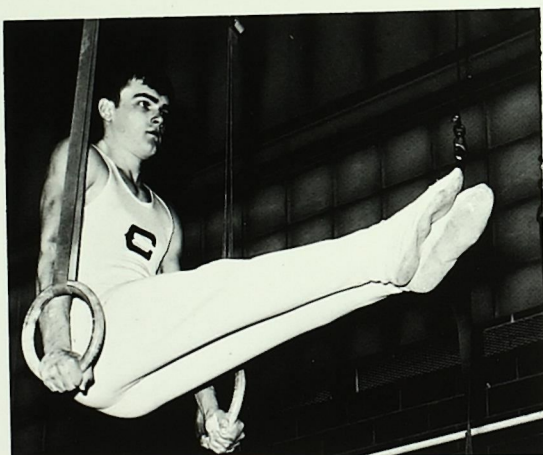

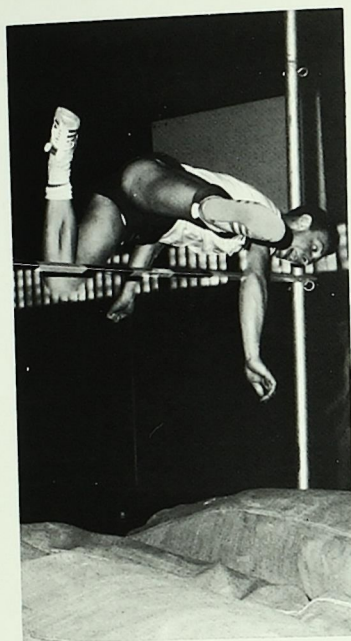

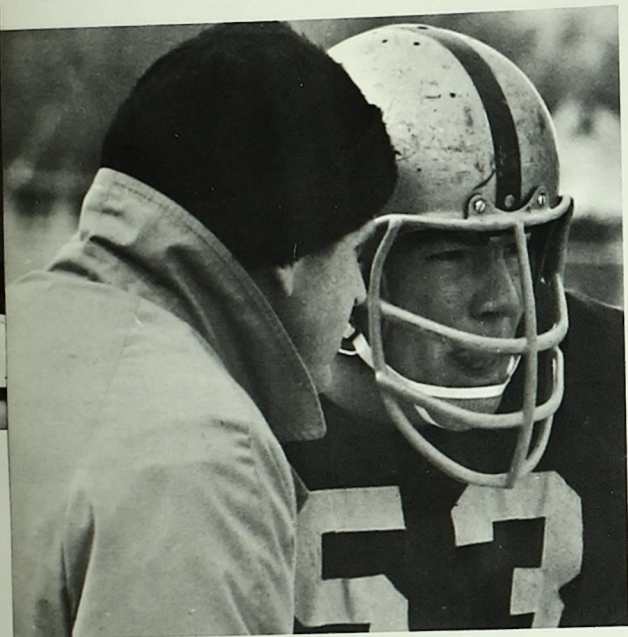

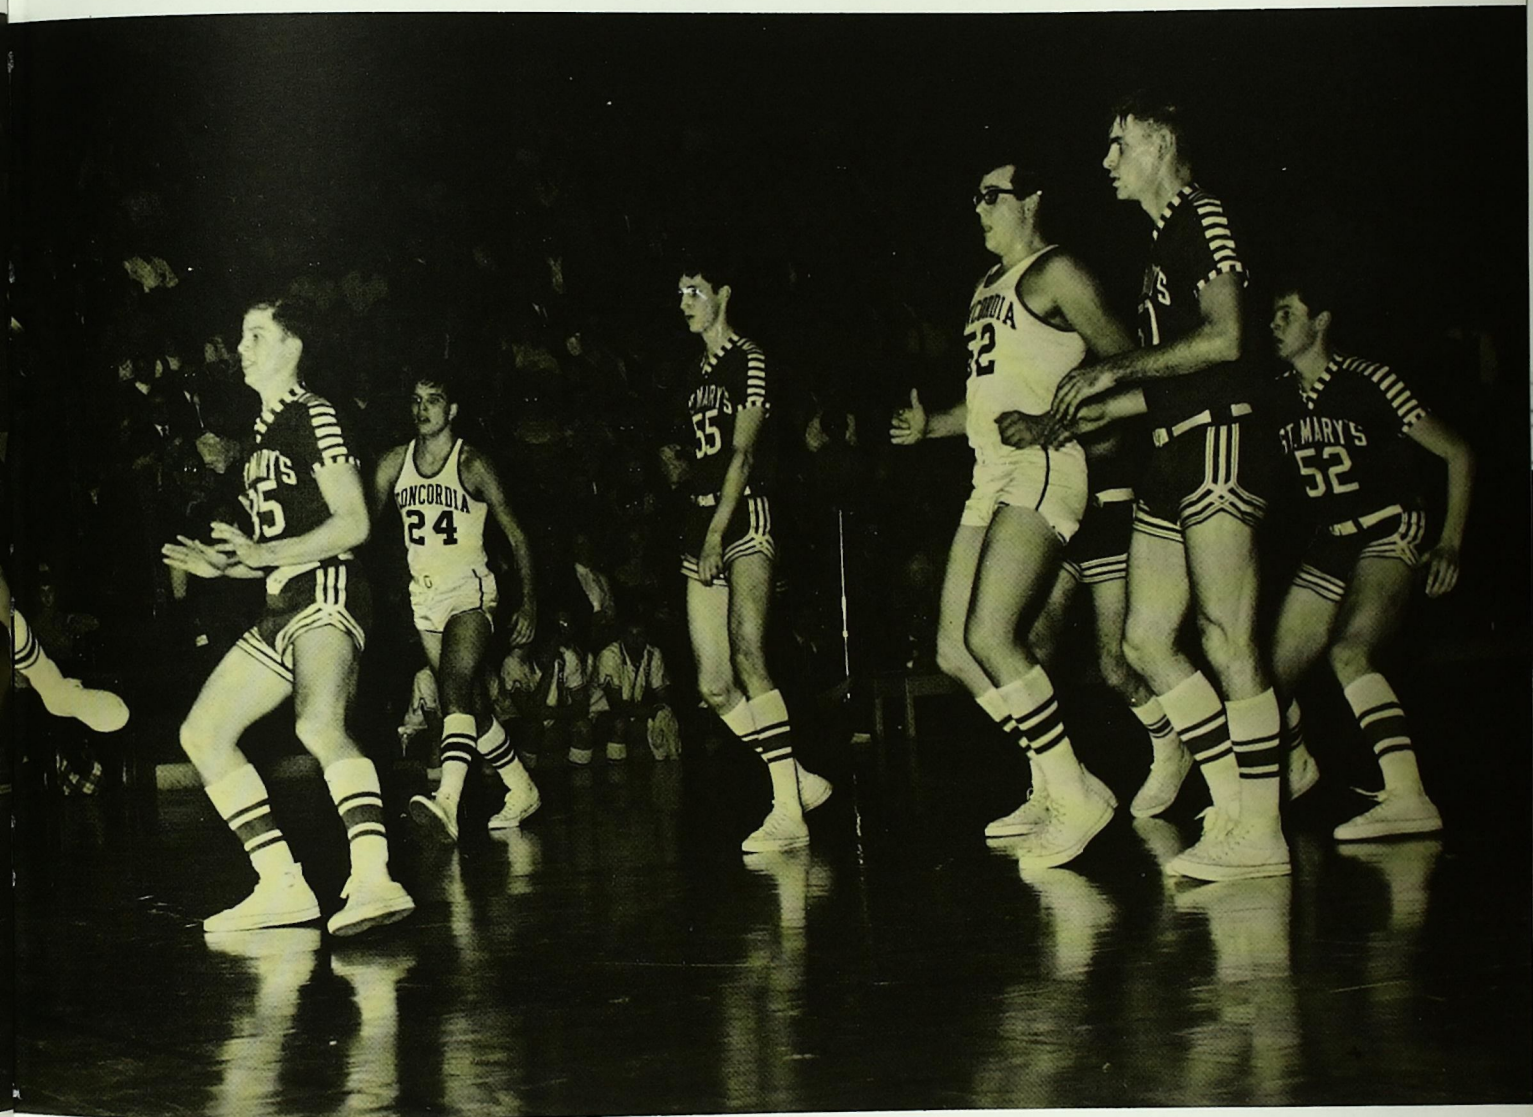

VETS CLUB

The Vets Club sponsored its annual basketball game with the faculty and again lost to its bitter opponents. However, the Vets produced a more successful bowling team. In addition to their monthly meetings, the Vets also sponsored the home choir concert. The members pictured are Adnan Sharabi, Paul Rogness, Larry Best, and Gary Hermanson.

Moorhead State College scored their only touchdown on a 55-yard drive the first time they took possession of the ball in Concordia's opener. The lead was short-lived as the Cobbers scored on a 51-yard drive in six plays with Quarterback Paul Linde going in from nine yards out. Joe Langemo's 33-yard run in the third quarter put the Cobbers out in front to stay. In the final quarter the Cobbers tallied twice on a 1-yard run by Linde and a 10-yard pass from Tim Long to Gale Otto. This ended the game, 27-7.

Concordia closed their successful football season with a 33-14 victory over Luther. Luther scored first on a 55-yard punt return but the Cobbers stomped out in front in the second period. Langemo scored on a 7-yard run, Linde on a three-yard plunge, and Perry on a field goal. After an unproductive third quarter, Langemo scored from two-thirds out and one minute gone in the fourth period. Mike Swanke added another touchdown with 1:40 remaining. The Concordia Kernels compiled a remarkable record in the '67-'68 season. Hampered by injuries, the Kernels remained undefeated. They played six games including University of Minnesota, Morris B, Bemidji State B, St. Cloud B, St. Cloud frosh, Moorhead State frosh, and NDSU frosh. The highlight of the season came when the Kernels upset the Baby Bison's 7 game winning streak at NDSU, 18-14.

Both the offensive and defensive units showed outstanding potential. The offensive totaled 184 points, or 30.6 points per game. The defensive held their opponents to 54 points, or 9 points per game.

The Kernels chose Avery Seifert from Pelican Rapids as the most valuable player.

The 1967-68 Concordia basketball season began on a high note as the Cobbers won three homecourt victories over NDSU, Morris, and MSC. However, the inconsistency which was to be characteristic of the team became evident when they lost the next three games. The Cobbers took second place in the St. Cloud Tournament, losing only to highly rated St. Cloud State. The Cobbers started slow but finished strong in the MIAC race with an 8-8 record, which was only three games off the pace set by league-leading Gustavus. Concordia's overall season mark was 13-13.

Senior Bob Laney closed out his collegiate career as Concordia's all-time high scorer, averaging over 25 points a game. He was selected to the ALL-MIAC team for the second straight season.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

The freshman basketball team completed their season with a record of 8 wins and 8 losses. Hampered by some problems in the second semester, due to injuries and ineligibilities, the Kernals played with only eight players. Bruce Gullekson was named the most valuable player and Doug Hastad the leading scorer. The team scored 100 points in a victory over Valley City State College. With such a team the Concordia varsity team can be expected to gain some valuable reserves and regulars.

ROW 1: C. Cain, M. Moldrem, D. Knutson, D. Dale, T. Johnson, S. Cernal, V. Ekness.
ROW 2: M. Walter, B. Gullekson, D. Dale, S. Reitan, J. Greenquist, R. Taylor, D. Slack, P. Rutherford, D. Hastad.

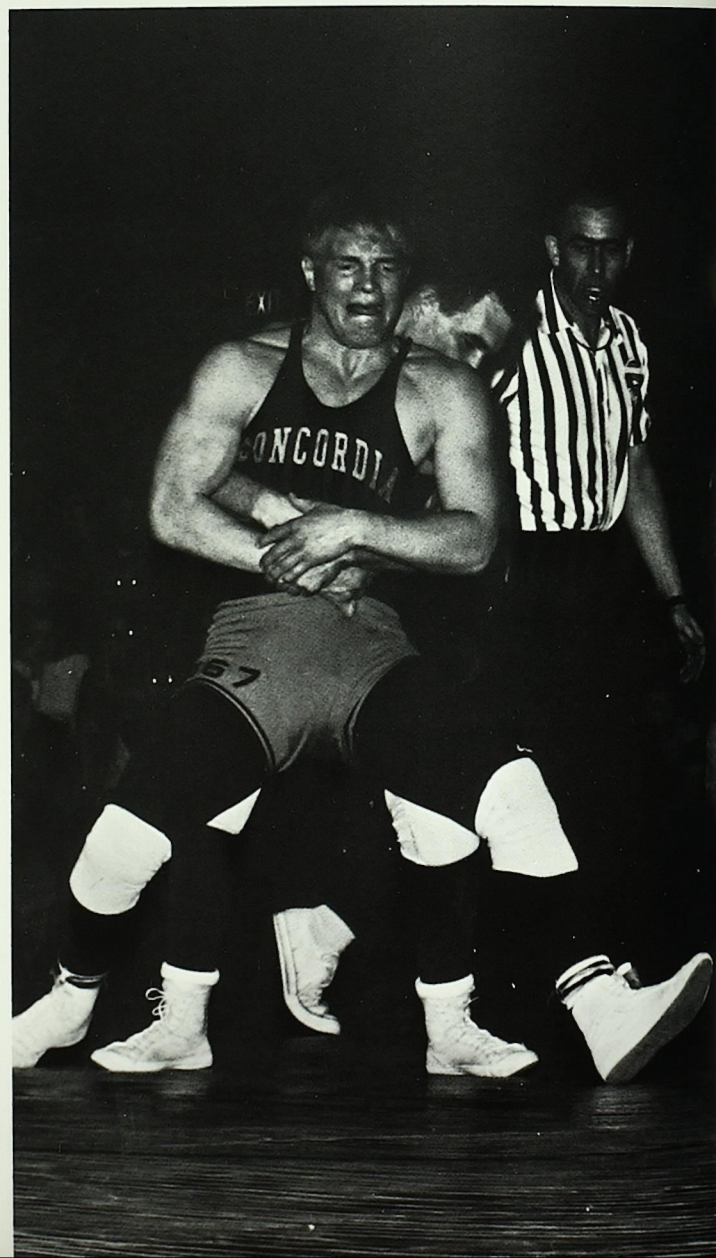

ROW 1: D. Yockim, R. Toffle, D. Boyce, J. Thorson, S. Hanson, O. Smeby, M. Kane. ROW 2: P. Budd, H. Thompson, B. Halvorson, A. Skaalwe, B. Erickson, D. Stamp, T. Yankoff, W. Yankoff, E. Nelson.

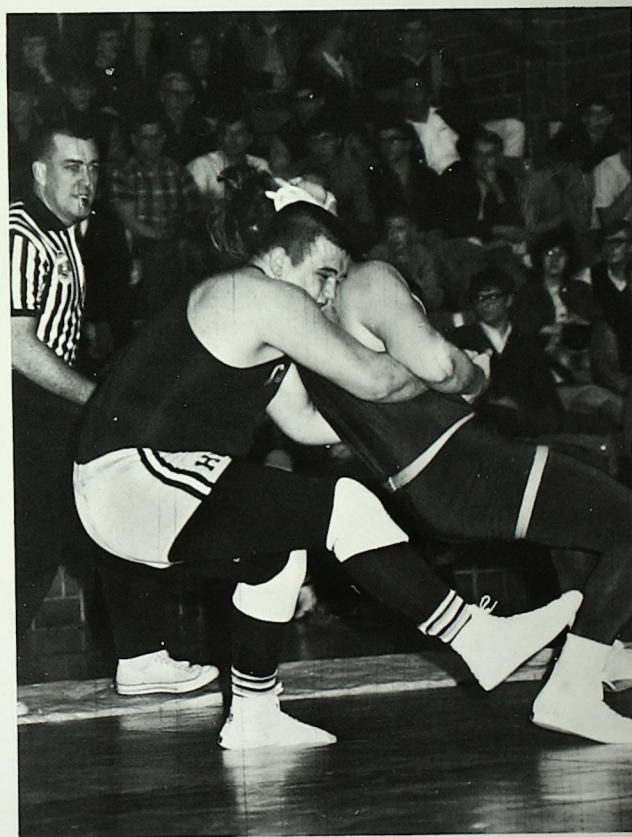

The noted wrestling squad coached by Vern Grinaker accumulated a record of 7-1 in Dual Meets and placed second behind Augsburg in the Conference Meet. Dennis Stamp (191) and Paul Budd (123) advanced to the Nationals at Alamosa, Colorado on March 7-9. Budd, winner of the Carl Larson Memorial Award given to the outstanding wrestler in the MIAC, was eliminated in the preliminary matches and Stamp placed fifth in his weight class.

Injuries and ineligibility hampered the teams' success with up to half of the returning lettermen out of action for all or part of the season. Due to these circumstances a lot of experience was gained by the younger members of the squad enhancing the prospects for the next year.

Although the Cobbers won only one conference game this season, the underclassmen's strong points made the future outlook promising. Senior Captain Carson Hedlund was selected as an ALL-MIAC defenseman. Freshman Center Duane Earnest received honorable mention to the conference team. He was the team's leading scorer with seven goals and five assists. Freshman Wayne Horgen scored two goals in the 3-2 comeback victory over St. John's. The team is coached by Charlie Basch.

GYMNASTICS

Concordia's Gymnastic team had a short, successful season. Senior Al Schmidt led the Cobbers to victory over N.D.S.U. by winning the high bar, the long horse, and the trampoline. Also winning events for the Cobbers were freshman Harold Anderson in the rings and junior Gordy Isachsen in the side horse. Hindered by a lack of competitors the Cobbers were able to finish only third in a triangular at Bemidji. Gaining points for the Cobbers were Steve Handley in the floor exercise; Al Schmidt in the long horse, the high bar, and the trampoline; Isachsen in the side horse and parallel bars; and Steve Kidder in the rings. Coach Jim Christopherson was well pleased with the performance of the Cobber gymnasts.

ROW 1: M. Gunderson, D. Spence, J. Anderson, J. Hoover, G. Isachsen, G. Steinbach. ROW 2: A. Agrimson, G. Konzelman, R. Bartholomaeus, P. Grover, J. Schubert, S. Handley, H. Anderson.

BASEBALL

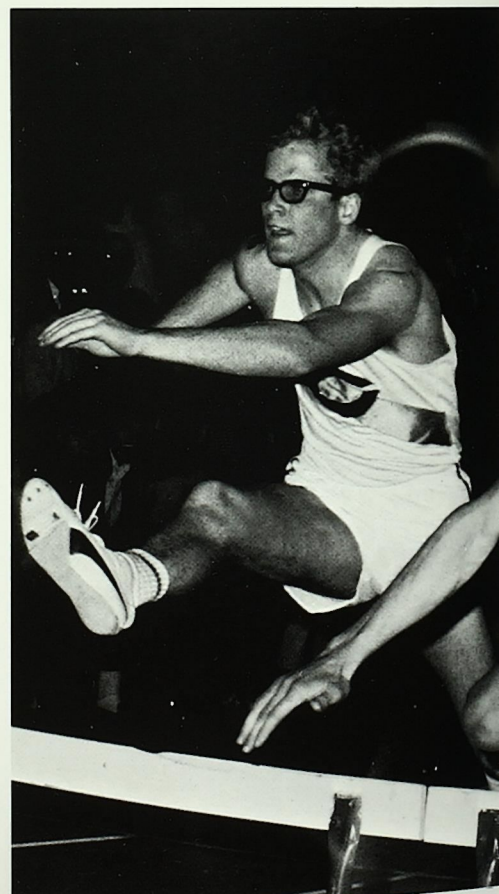

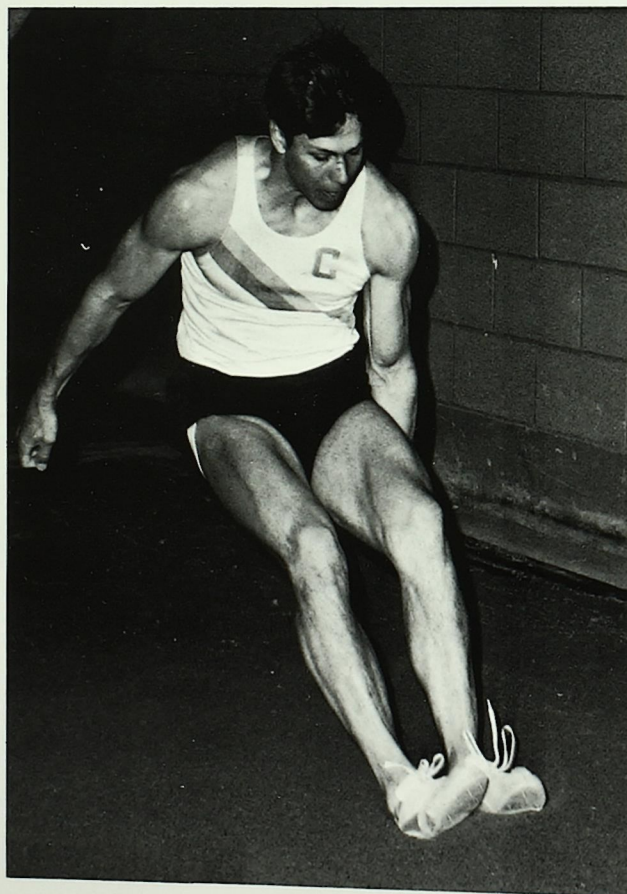

Not even a snowed-out game could dampen the Baseball prospects for 1968. Charlie Basch's squad had tough luck at first, dropping several contests by only a single run, but they also managed to pull out victories over some of the best teams in the MIAC. Jim Herhusky, a converted third-baseman, and Tom Cummings carried the main burden on the mound. Senior catcher Tim Braaten finished out his outstanding career behind the plate for Concordia.

TRACK

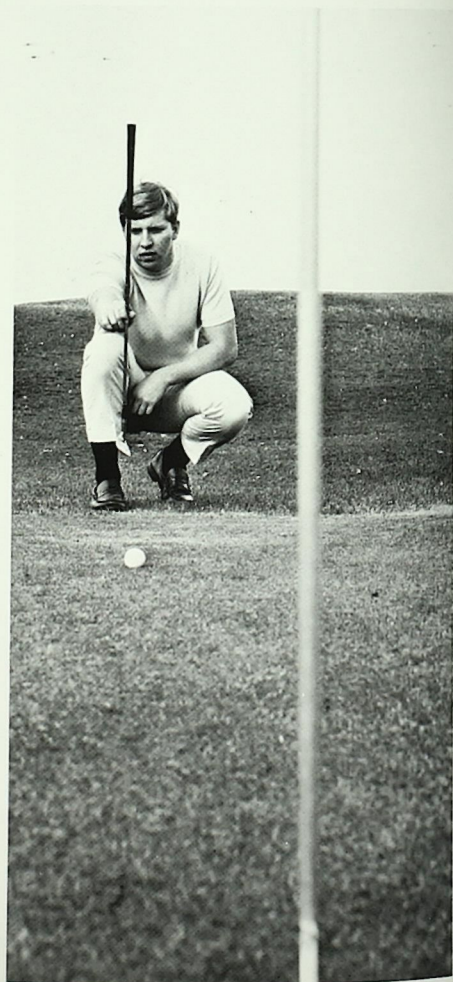

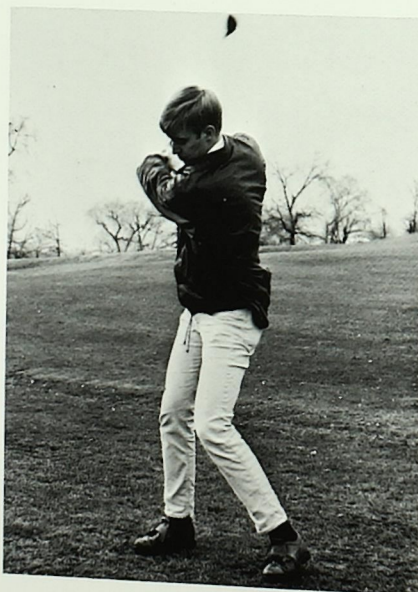

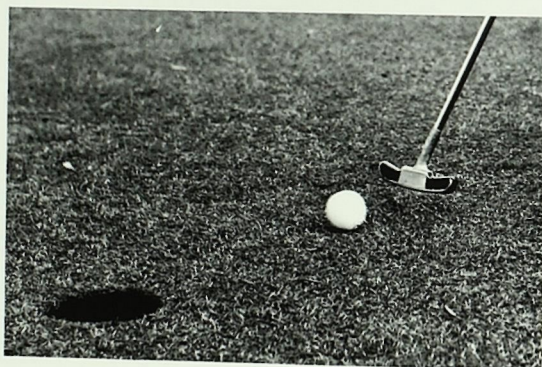

Plagued by the lack of depth and an absence of point-getters in the distances and weights, the Cobber Thin-clads enjoyed little success during the 1968 season. One bright spot was pole vaulter Al Schmidt who was a consistent winner and record-breaker throughout the year. Freshman Greg Kaiser (hurdles) and sophomores Dennis Rud (440) showed promise for future seasons. The manpower deficit and poor outdoor practice facilities left Coach Jim Christopherson's cindermen fighting to keep out of the lower divisions in most meets.

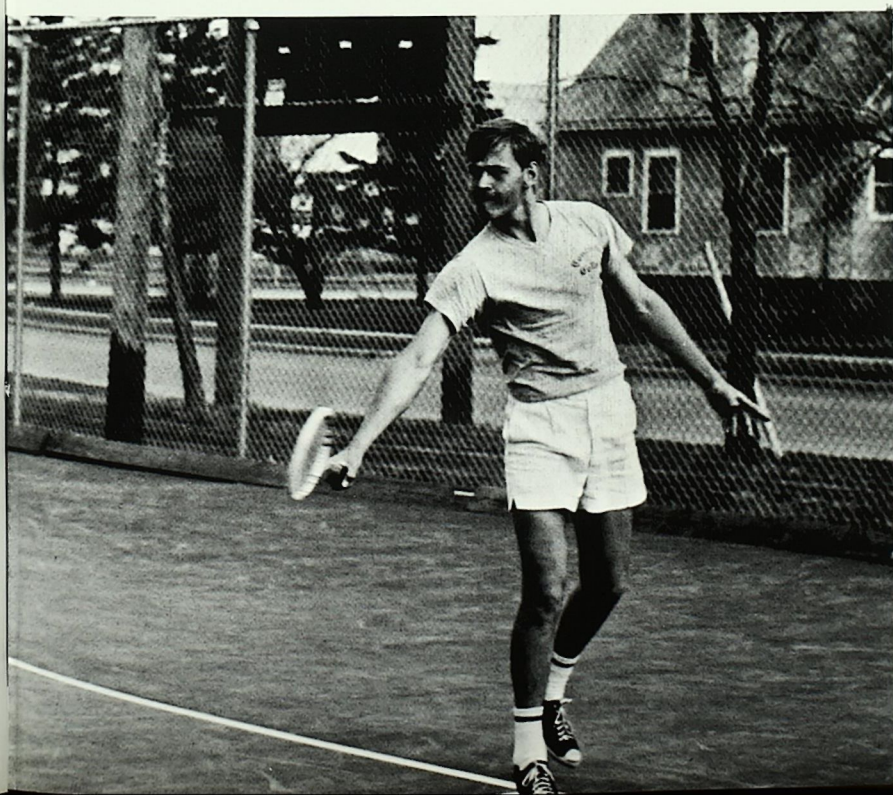

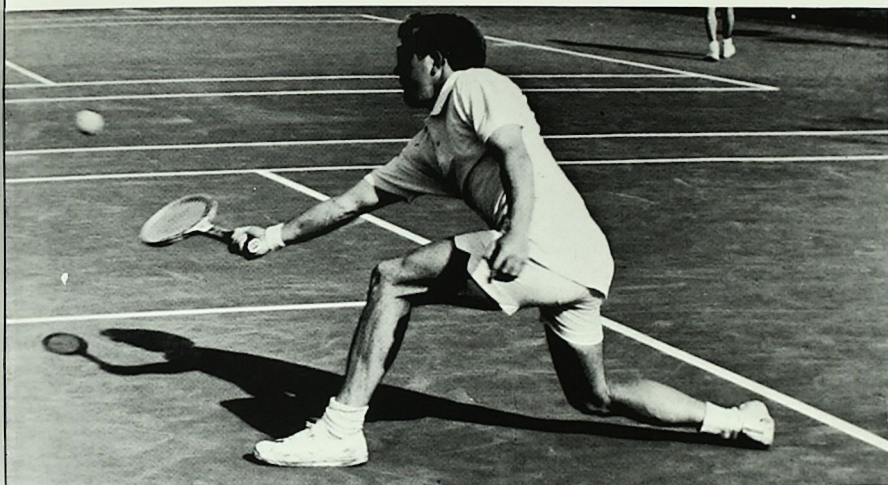

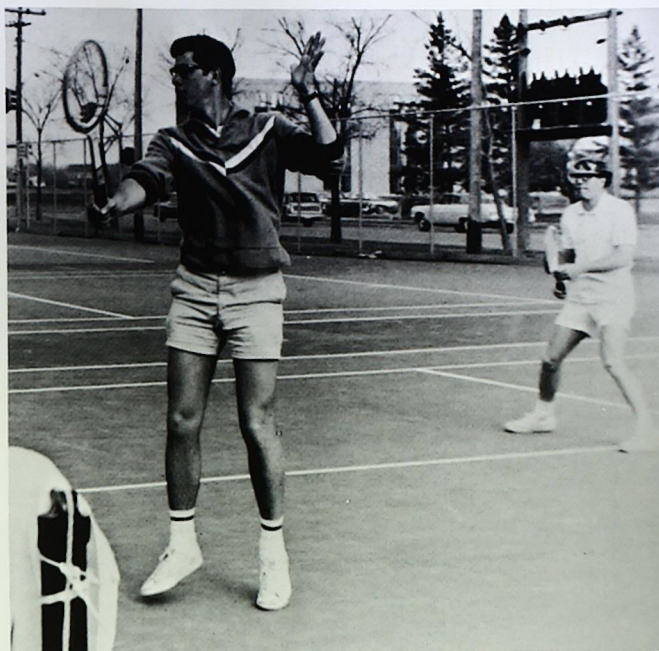

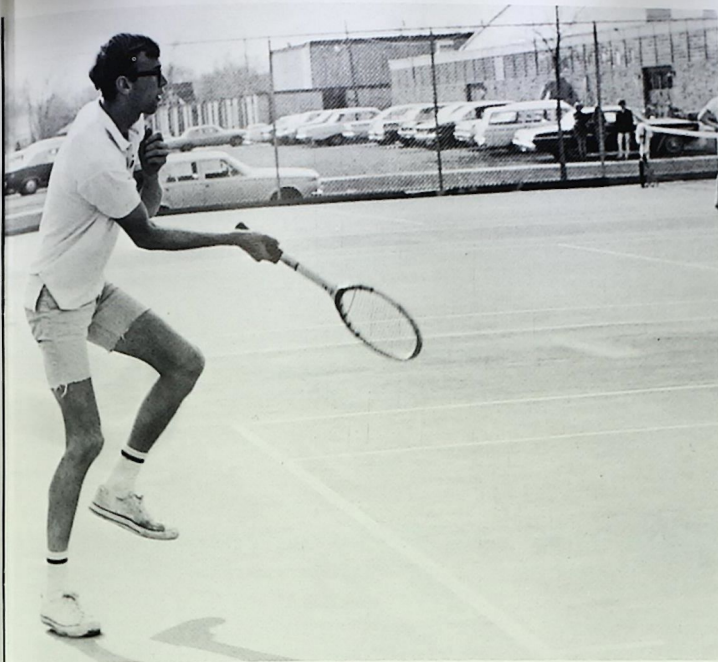

GOLF

An early Spring enabled the 1968 Cobber Golf team to get onto the links early, yet they were still unable to come up with any impressive performances as competition opened. Steve Haslerud, a freshman, broke into the line-up that included Mike Swanke and Terry Knauf. Finn Grinaker once again handled the coaching duties.

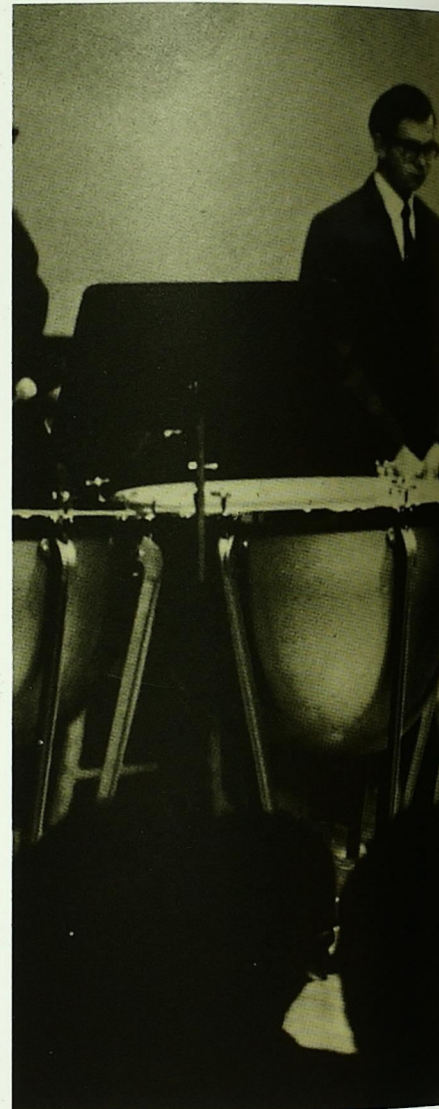

TENNIS

The Tennis squad was the youngest of all the Cobber spring sports. Craig Olsen and Steve Handley were two of the top freshmen, while Don Idso, a sophomore, proved to be a highly capable performer. Senior Dave Erickson was the only upperclassman playing for Concordia, which gives tennis coach Bob Nick an optimistic outlook for years to come. The squad split with intra-city rivals, trouncing MSC while dropping their meet with NDSU, and held their own against MIAC rivals.

ACADEMIC CAMPUS

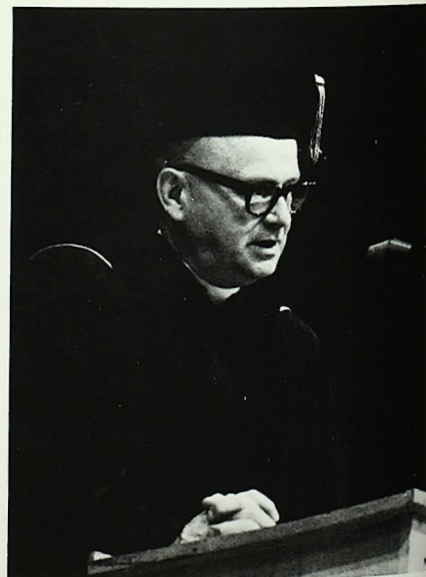

ADMINISTRATION

President Knutson ushers all the freshmen in and all the seniors out with his enthusiasm for education and Christianity. But more than this, he is part of the campus all-year round as he addresses the chapel goers, welcomes guests, and participates in campus events. Characteristic of the Cobber's president is his favorite quote: "A man's reach must exceed his grasp or what's a heaven for." (Robert Browning)

RELIGION

The active religion department sponsored a Lay School of Theology along with the community and Concordia. The New York Seminar featured visitations to urban churches with Dr. Hofrenning.

140 pre-seminarians and professional lay church workers belong to Kappa Theta. Two hour long sessions on various phases of counseling, contemporary issues and questions, future work of the members, and summer jobs in Christian vocations are all a part of these students' work. The officers are Tom Hunt, Serene Bemis, Phil Knudson, Hjordis Dommer, and Richard Melchert.

RUSSIAN — GREEK — LATIN

All students in the classical or modern languages can record themselves on the dual tapes in the individual labs. Studies at Schiller College in Germany, 21 days abroad in May, puppet shows in French Club and foreign films have been offered this year by the modern language department.

LIBRARY

110,000 books, shuffling feet, whispers, and students. Far from being a dull, aging spot on campus, the Concordia library shows as much vigor as the rest of the campus and looks forward to a new addition. The present library, built in 1955, is already getting too small for the large number of books constantly being added.

Mr. Verlyn Anderson has spent the last two years working toward a Doctor's degree in American Studies and will be returning in the position of Head Librarian. A Student Library Committee composed of interested volunteers and student librarians serves as a liaison between students and the library.

Team teaching in Speech III has provided a variety of topics this year. Propaganda, informative and persuasive speeches, and theories of speech are all included in the course.

The Shakespearean Workshop and special projects like directing, acting, and designing sets and costumes helped round off the year for the drama majors.

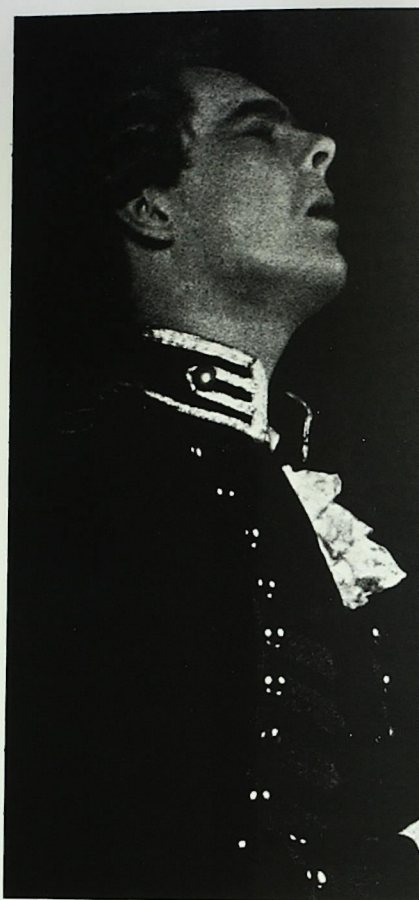

DEBATE

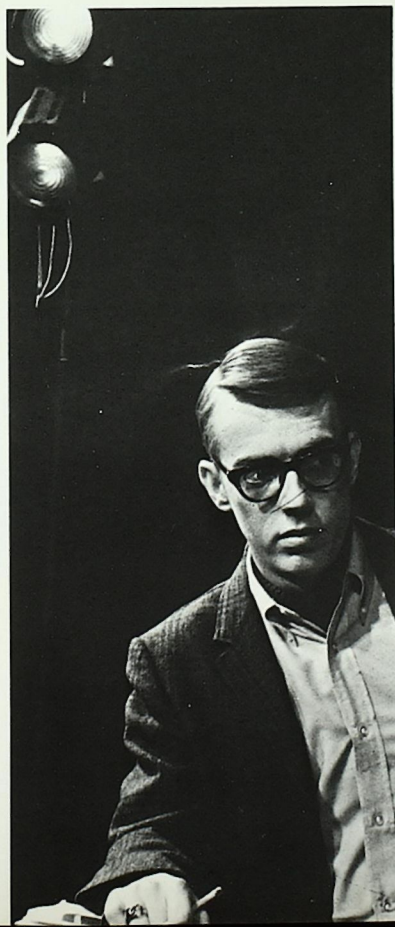

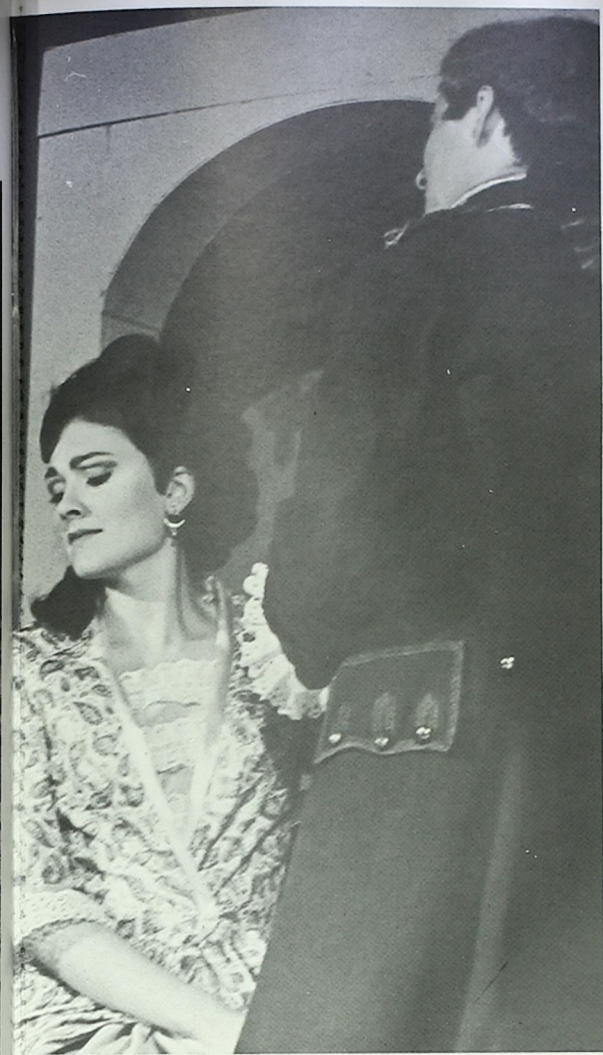

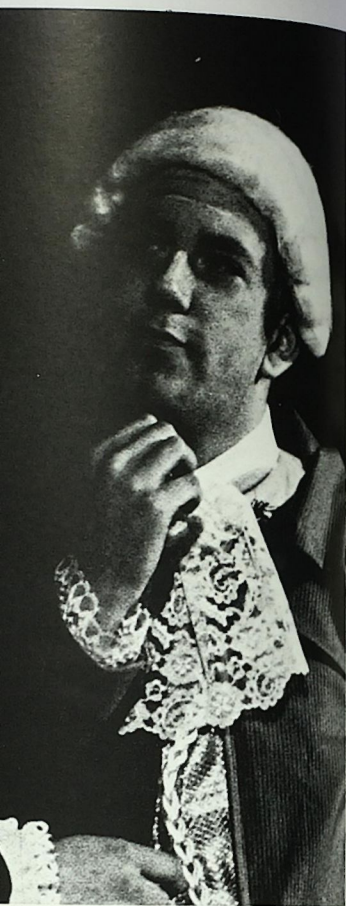

The Pi Kappa Delta, the national forensic fraternity, sponsored "on campus" debates for the first time this year. Pictured above are Betty Malen and Mark Engelstad with their championship trophy in the Illinois State tournament. They both have frequently won top speaking awards. On the top are Don Gaetz, Jan Waye, Mark Englestad, and Mary Poppen, who earned their way to the final rounds in the Iowa State tournament.

Laughs, thoughts, and then reevaluations. Through the use of comedy, William Shakespeare leaves his audience with mixed emotions about the universal inconsistencies of man's criticisms of others. The leads were played by Stefanie Ramsdell, Doug Dobson, Carl Darchek, David Horstman, Ron Duda, Louis Svendson, Nancy Nicholson, and Susan Bock. The play was directed by Dr. Haugen.

This two-play performance included "The Detour" and "A Phoenix Too Frequent" by Christopher Fry. Dr. Haugen directed the plays which were performed during the summer and again for the freshmen during orientation. The actors were Ron Duda, Stephanie Ramsdell, John Lovas, Reeves Cary, and Kathy Rossetti.

Garson Kanin's "Born Yesterday" was part of the summer theater. The cast included Nancy Nicholson, Bill Hoverson, R. J. Lupient, Louis Jones, Reeves Cary, Wendy Ward, and Ron Duda. Mr. Bordner directed the play.

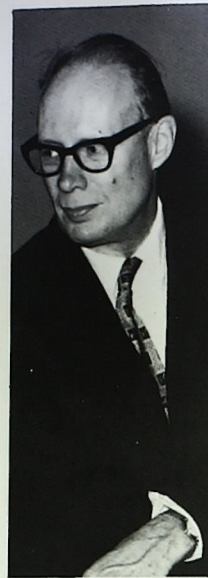

ANDORRA

Max Frisch's play about Jewish prejudices stirred thoughts in the audience about their own social misconceptions. The simplicity of the sets magnified the significant characterizations portrayed by Ron Duda, Paulette Callen, David Horstmann, Nancy Nicholson, and Scott Graham. The play was directed by Ken Bordner.

HISTORY

Moving to new department quarters has been only one of the changes this year. Dr. Gordon Hanson has joined the staff to round it out with his field of Medieval History. Team teaching for freshmen proved its worth and will be used again next year to teach students of the world they live in.

POLITICAL SCIENCE

In connection with the history department, political science has given way to another department, that of international relations. It is an interdisciplinary major from which one can go into government or teaching.

Pi Gamma Mu, an honorary social science organization, hosted noted speakers on campus. An international smorgasbord topped off a year full of world wide happenings. Political minded students belong to such organizations as the Young Republicans (bottom left) or the Young Democrats (below).

Computers, numbers, slide rules. The math department sponsors the William Lowell Putnam Mathematical Competition, which is coached by Dr. Gerald Heuer, once a week during the first semester. The computer center in the C-400 is managed by Mr. Arne Garness and is used by the whole campus.

PSYCHOLOGY

New labs hosting varied experiments have become an integral part of the Psych Department in the New Science Center. Students are experiencing the joys and headaches of independent study. New this year is an experiment in team teaching which is being tried on Freshmen with Psych majors as the teaching assistants. Connected with this department are two student clubs, Psi Chi and Pi Sigma Kappa, which share as their officers Lee Dahle, Luther Dale and Robert Quam.

PHYSICS

Curriculum changes offers students a teaching major and beginning courses in the freshman year. The new science hall provides the accelerated students with more room than the small Kevetron building near the fieldhouse. Dr. John Ollom of Drew University lectured on "The Saturation of Science" during the dedication program for the new science center.

CHEMISTRY

The new science hall greatly aroused the enthusiasm of the chemistry students. The radio-chem lab is a new feature and the faculty research labs have expanded. These new and better facilities have provided outlets for teachers like Dr. Holmann to explore fields in anaerobic carbohydrate metabolism. Test-tubes, burets, and distillation apparatus. All these yield the products at which chemists marvel.

BIOLOGY

Biology III, fetal pigs, chart tests, bird watchers, and Homo sapiens. These terms have become familiar to most Concordia freshmen. The bio department has encompassed the entire old science building and therefore, has been able to add new features such as the lectures on cell physiology.

FRESHMEN

A personality is always growing. These new faces at Concordia build the personality that is distinctly "Cobber," as each frosh in turn finds his own new dimension. Representing them are President Tic Coulter, Vice-President Cliff Haugen, Secretary, Jeanie Larson, and Treasurer Gary Hedstrom.

Y-NITE

Swimming, volleyball, karate. These and more were enjoyed by Cobber fans at Y-Nights sponsored by the Student Activities Commission. The Student Association provided a bus to the "Y" and other destinations on weekends.
